SENIOR MEMOIRS
1943

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1943 WHO HAVE LEFT
BEVERLY HIGH SCHOOL TO ANSWER THE CALL
OF THEIR COUNTRY, WHETHER IT BE ON THE BATTLE - FRONT OR ON THE PRODUCTION FRONT, THIS BOOK WE HUMBLY
AND RESPECT-FULLY DEDICATE

Three years ago Miss Tasker did not realize the task that lay before her when she accepted the invitation to be our class adviser. She did not realize that she would make plans for a group that would be titled "The War Class of 1943." But she has met all her tasks admirably, and we find it hard to express all the gratitude and credit that she most assuredly deserves. All we can say is that we are grateful that we have had such an unusual person as Miss Tasker to guide us, one who believes along with Edwin Markham that—

"When the great oak is straining in the wind,
The boughs drink in new beauty, and the trunk
Sends down a deeper root on the windward side."

MISS LORNA TASKER

Mr. Atkinson, by his kind and understanding manner, his never-failing sense of fair-play and justice, and his keen interest in the problems and needs of each individual, has won during his short time with us, our whole-hearted admiration and respect. We, as seniors, leaving Beverly High School, to take our places in the world, perhaps in far distant fields, may always be grateful for the principles which he has taught us, and for the pleasant memories of B. H. S. with which he will always be associated.

Senior Class History

This has certainly been an exciting and an eventful year for any Senior Class. We started out with about 300 Seniors and the count taken again this April showed that there were only 250 of us left. This means that about 16% of our number are now serving Uncle Sam.

Many other changes have been made in school life this year due to the calamity across that vast expense of water. New war subjects have been added. Courses have been changed. And even the atmosphere about the school is far more tense and exciting.

At the half year the Senior Boys were given an opportunity to alter their course in favor of a war-time class. Some kept their regular curriculum but added the new war subjects thus circulating all of their studies and study periods. It was at the half year also that all the boys of 17 years of age or older were required to take five periods of physical education a week. About the only thing that changed for the girls was the ever growing decrease of boys in their classes.

Toward the latter part of the year, that is about the middle of the third quarter, another new war program was introduced into Beverly High. This was the nation wide Victory Corps.

Other than these added activities the Senior Class also went through its regular routine of electing officers, joining in the "Drama Night" Competition, giving a Class play, having its socials, and competing in the various sports. As to our Class officers who had a great responsibility on their shoulders we elected as president, Wilbur Hardy. As our vice-president we chose James Jameson. To be our secretary we elected Patricia Churchley. And for the class treasurer we voted for Rosamond Cole.

The members of our Student Council had a great many important matters to decide upon this year. They have been about the most active council that we have had for a few years. The president of this select group, George Little, deserves much credit for his tact and initiative shown while in this responsible position. It makes the class feel as if they could not have elected a person any more suited for this office than he. Other senior members of the council who have served nobly are Nancy Hill, who is secretary; Lionel Belanger, and Wilbur Hardy. Willis Quimby and Stephen Fortunato are two of the many that have left school. Mary Petronzio was elected to complete the unexpired term of Stephen Fortunato.

Another group of Seniors who make a lot of decisions for the Senior Class are the members of the Executive Committee. Ruth Woodbury is chairman of this committee. The other members are Willis Quimby, Mary Petronzio, William Morris, and Martin Kelly.

The Student Service Committee is a group of students who unfortunately are hardly ever thought of after being elected by their classmates, yet they do a lot of work and really deserve much credit. The students in this group are Patricia Woodward, Chairman; Robert York, Patricia Sim, and Nancy Dimond.

So far this year we have had one Social and it was a very successful one. This lone Social was sponsored by the Senior Class. The Social Committee consists of Eileen Irving, as chairman; Robert Rogers, Cynthia Knight, Helen Cleveland, Kenneth Kinsman, Kenneth Clapp, and Robert Pitts.

This year our Class for the third time competed in the "Drama Night" contest. We presented a humorous heart-warming drama with a cheerful Christmas setting. For the second consecutive year the gold medal for the best acting was most deservedly awarded to Patricia Woodward.

One of the traditional events of B. H. S. Senior Classes is the Class Play. Although this has not been put on up to the date of this write up, we feel confident that their production, "Salad Days," will be well presented.

Except for sports and extra curriculum activities which are covered specifically in other sections of this book this completes the activities participated in by members of the Senior Class of 1943.

Looking Back

It doesn't take too great a strain on the powers of reminiscence to look back to the years when we were the undergrads. We can recall how lowly we felt then before the high and cocky seniors who seemed always to be walking around with their chests out and their noses up in the air.

While we kept out of their way, we watched the slow but ever encouraging progress of our own humble class. We were indeed grateful that we were gifted with such an energetic, diligent, but patient Class Mother, as Miss Tasker, to steer us through our trials.

The leaders that we had were also a credit to their classmates. In our Sophomore year, when everything seemed to be in a turmoil, we chose some leaders. We elected Nancy Hill as our president and to assist her we chose Daniel Kelleher as vice-president, Cynthia Knight as secretary, and Beverle Hull as our class treasurer.

With the help and example of our leaders it did not take us long to get into the swing of things. Our contribution to "Drama Night" competition was a lively, fast moving, and humorous play called Elmer. The much talented cast consisted of Nancy Hill, Kenneth Kinsman, Patricia Woodward, Mary Louise Morse, Rosamond Cole, Patricia Sim, Dorothy Dodge, Jack Wentzell, and Robert Rogers. Kenneth Kinsman walked away with a well deserved gold pin for being the best actor in that presentation.

Toward the end of our Sophomore year we again chose some more leaders to represent us in the Student Council. These were Daniel Kelleher, George Little, Lionel Belanger, Allan Lawson, Ruth Woodbury and Nancy Hill.

During all this time we were beginning to feel more and more at home at B. H. S. When we entered our Junior year, we still had the feeling of inferiority to our upper classmen, but it was not so intense.

This year we again competed in Drama Night and presented a colorful play with a beautiful Dutch setting. The Juniors who took a part in this play were: Kenneth Kinsman, Tony Paglia, George Little, Martin Kelley, Patricia Woodward, and Dorothy Dodge. Patty Woodward received the gold pin this year for her excellent portrayal of Gretchen, a quaint little Dutch girl.

For our Class Officers during our Junior year we elected Daniel Kelleher, president; George Little, vice-president; Helen Peterson, secretary; and for the second consecutive year we elected Beverle Hull as the class treasurer. They all performed their duties well and with the utmost responsibility and more than deserve any praise that might be given them.

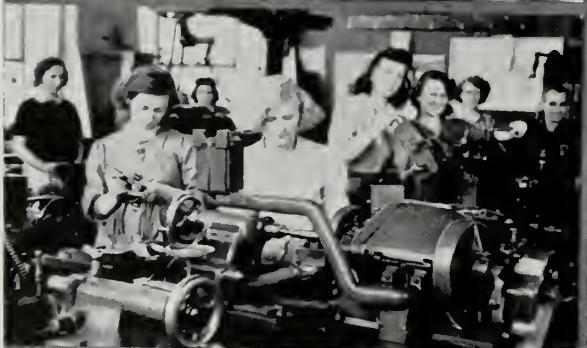

As it came closer and closer to the end of the Junior year we felt more and more in place at B. H. S. We were beginning to understand now why the Seniors felt the way that they did. In fact we were beginning to feel that way ourselves. Now we are at last Seniors and it is really a grand feeling that will be remembered for a long time.

History of the Junior Class

In 1941, we, the graduating class of '44, began a very enjoyable and successful sophomore year, which left many pleasant memories.

During the first quarter of our first year, we elected for our Sophomore officers:

President , William Mercaldi	Secretary , Nancy Hord
Vice-President , Allen Elliot	Treasurer , Polly Parker

When Drama Night came, we submitted the winning play, "Make Room For Rodney," The cast was as follows:

Richard Lawrence	Lillian Horne
Geraldine Snell	Gordon Hamilton
Calvin Perkins	Wilberta Bunker
Summer Peabody

Richard Lawrence merited the gold pin for the best acting in the play in which he portrayed the leading role of Rodney.

Many sophomore boys and girls were prominent in the various sports offered at Beverly High.

When summer came and ended our activities for a time, we were all a bit sorry, but we looked forward to an equally enjoyable junior year.

The school year of '42-'43 began a trifle confused, for the shadow of war had entered our studies. As the year progressed, we made the acquaintance of several courses in the War Program and later many of us became active in Victory Corps.

As our first duty, we elected our Junior class officers:

President , William Mercaldi	Secretary , Jane Howarth
Vice-President , Allen Elliot	Treasurer , Nancy Hord

In the annual Drama Night Competition, our play won the banner for the second consecutive year. This time Bessie Tibbets won the gold pin for her wonderful acting.

As before, the boys and girls of B.H.S. '44 excelled in sports. The outstanding boys in basketball were Douglas Cram, Paul Harrington, Howard Keech, Robert McMahon, Norman Sciamanna, and Richard Shea.

In football, we had our representatives too, with Waldo Harlow, Paul Harrington, Robert Hathaway, Allen Elliot, Phillip Carr, and Donald Carr.

The girls interested in basketball were Elinor Fielding, Muriel Muir, Mary Reid, May Gorman, and Helen Swanson. In addition, several girls played field hockey and we were well represented with Elinor Fielding, Nancy Hord, Muriel Muir, May Gorman, Mary Bernaseoni, and June Donnelly doing a fine job on the field.

Members of the Student Council, who served us well were Natalie Cole, Gordon Hamilton, Mabel Hin, Nancy Hord, Jane Howarth, and Martha Tucker. They carried on into the senior year. During the fifth week of the fourth quarter, two more members were elected to serve with these six.

We are proud of Harold Foote, James Kearney, James Odell, Arthur Kluge, John Ross, Edward Martin, Albert Loranger, Thomas Wickers, and Arthur Hard-ing, who have answered the call of their country and entered the service.

The class of '44 is looking forward to a senior year as interesting and busy as our junior and sophomore years.

History of the Sophomore Class

September 9, 1942 dawned rainy and dull as we ventured into the halls and class rooms of B.H.S. In the annals of Beverly High , there could never have been a more pathetic group of sophomores.

Corridors, punctuated by doors, stretched for yards in every direction, and there the annual tussel with lockers began, causing a hum of exasperation to hover over the school.

At first we were shy and awkward in our new surroundings, but soon home room officers and members of the House of Delegates were elected, clubs were organized, and we were finally recognized by our fellow students and the faculty as a helpful link in the well-run machinery of this grand school.

The war came close to us. Because of preparations for rationing and Victory Corps organization, we were the orphans of Beverly High without officers or faculty adviser until late in the third quarter, but we soon developed initiative and self-reliance.

A large number of our class entered the trade School and studied printing, auto mechanics, and sheet metal.

We are proud of Wilbur Surles, Tom Ward, and Emerson Wright, who put away their books and joined the armed forces.

Our first introduction to high school entertainment was a social in the gym. Although, as sophomores, we did not have an opportunity to have a dance of our own, we immensely enjoyed the entertainment offered by the upper classmen.

Drama Night was an addition to our class high lights when the sophomores produced a hilarious comedy entitled Elmer and the Love Bug. The prize for the best acting was awarded to William Floyd. Although we did not succeed in winning the banner, we gave the seniors and juniors some stiff competition and the audience a good many laughs.

Our football season was soon under way. To the Second Team the sophomores contributed: Robert Pelonzi, who saw action as a substitute for Paul Ambrefe; William Kelly, Ralph Lewis, Dave Trefry, Joseph Hirshhorn. Other sophomores, Clifford Roby, John Carr, Michael Pisani, Thomas Quinn, and Dennis Shea, provided heavy practice opposition.

Finally the basketball season popped its head around the corner, and our lone representative on the Boys' First Team, Clifford Roby, sprang into the spot light. Dennis Shea and Eugene La Montagne showed speed and playing ability on the Second Team.

On our Track Team were: Robert Benjamin, John Hilton, James Mitchell, Kent Rudkin, Donald Richardson, Richard Burr, and Edward Sullivan.

Promising players on the Girls Basketball Team were: Margaret Walton, Louise Fielding, Lorraine Andersen, Eleanor Ricci, Annette St. Pierre, Frances Bonjorno.

A capable group of girls represented the sophomores on the Girls Field Hockey Team. They were: Margaret Walton, Sally Ann Cohn, Naomi Berman, Joan Lindberg, Annette St. Pierre, Louise Fielding, Frances Bonjorno, and Blanche Dodge.

Thus we are striving towards better education for a lasting peace and a crowning Victory, never knowing what lies beyond the horizon.

This year's Field Hockey Squad was hindered by the present war which made it difficult to obtain opponents and transportation. Nevertheless, our most capable coach, Miss Teague, made it possible for us to participate in a few games with North Shore Country Day School, Manchester, and Danvers. Our opponents proved that they were quite skillful in handling their hockey sticks and driving the ball for goals.
